

What is History?	R	A	G
K1a – Know the meaning of AD and BC
K1b – Know that time is measured from left to right
K1c – Know that AD years count down and BC count up
K1d – Know that historians name specific groups of years as periods
K2a – Know the meaning of the word significance
K2b – Know how to measure if an event/person is significant
K2c - Know that it is possible for people to disagree about significance
K2d – Know some significant events/people
K3a – Know that people can have different views of the same person/event
K3b – Know that perception of an event can be affected by factors
K3c – Know that evidence must be evaluated to decide if reliable
K3d – Know that some people in the past manipulate the story to get across their interpretation
K4a – Know that historians use a range of sources
K4b – Know that to evaluate a source there is a process
K4c – Know that the reliability is affected by NOP
K4d – Know that sources of evidence can be linked together

What is History?	R	A	G
K1a – Know the meaning of AD and BC
K1b – Know that time is measured from left to right
K1c – Know that AD years count down and BC count up
K1d – Know that historians name specific groups of years as periods
K2a – Know the meaning of the word significance
K2b – Know how to measure if an event/person is significant
K2c - Know that it is possible for people to disagree about significance
K2d – Know some significant events/people
K3a – Know that people can have different views of the same person/event
K3b – Know that perception of an event can be affected by factors
K3c – Know that evidence must be evaluated to decide if reliable
K3d – Know that some people in the past manipulate the story to get across their interpretation
K4a – Know that historians use a range of sources
K4b – Know that to evaluate a source there is a process
K4c – Know that the reliability is affected by NOP
K4d – Know that sources of evidence can be linked together			